CANADA'S NEW GOVERNMENT INVESTS OVER $4.6M IN GREATER SUDBURY REGION

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ontario, April 27, 2007 — The Honourable Tony Clement, Minister of Health and Minister for FedNor, underlined the commitment of Canada's New Government to Northern Ontario today by announcing the results of a $28.1M investment in support of 140 economic development projects benefiting hundreds of communities located throughout the vast region. Minister Clement announced the funding, provided by FedNor's two main programs – Northern Ontario Development and Community Futures – during a visit to Sault Ste. Marie this morning.

“Canada's New Government is committed to helping the residents of Greater Sudbury prosper,” said Minister Clement. “Our investment will help diversify the economy by supporting young Northerners entering the workforce, enhancing access to the information highway, and providing services to support small business growth.”

Of the total, more than $4.6 million is earmarked for the Greater Sudbury region in support of 32 projects benefiting the technology, tourism, youth and small business sectors (see attached information sheet). Of this total, $2.8M will be used to establish the Northeastern Ontario Network (NEON), an information technology (IT) consortium involving nine hospitals across Northeastern Ontario.

“We are certainly grateful to the Minister for today's significant announcement for all of Northern Ontario and for FedNor's tremendous contribution to this community and the surrounding area,” stated John Rodriguez, Mayor of the City of Greater Sudbury. “These investments will pay significant dividends in enhancing the quality of life for the residents and businesses of Sudbury and the Nickel Belt region.”

As outlined in Budget 2007, announced March 19th in Ottawa, Canada's New Government is creating competitive advantages for a stronger economy by reducing Canada's debt, lowering taxes on hard-working families, helping Canadian businesses compete globally, and making unprecedented investments in the infrastructure that connects the nation.

Today's announcement supports FedNor's strategic approach to helping Northern communities transition to a knowledge-based economy. More specifically, FedNor is meeting key Northern priorities, including: helping young graduates find full-time employment through FedNor's Youth Internship Program; ensuring that Northern communities have access to broadband so that residents can take advantage of the latest e-learning and tele-health initiatives; providing access to capital and advice for small business owners and entrepreneurs; developing an innovation capacity for medical and resource-based research; supporting trade networks to link Northern products and services to international markets; and facilitating marketing partnerships between tourism operators to attract new visitors to Northern Ontario.
